

Transcending Differences in Placement

OCWTP
FOSTER CARE, KINSHIP CARE, AND ADOPTION PRESERVICE TRAINING

UNDERSTAND ME

What's beneath the clothes, the hair, the smile?

Look deep inside to find me.

The lost and lonely girl inside,

That hides deep inside me.

Please don't judge me for what you see.

'Cause I don't look and act like you remember,

I can only be me.

Look closer, pay attention.

Forget about the fake smile you see.

Can you see what lies inside of me?

The girl with a big heart,

The loving one that constantly gets hurt

So please don't judge me by my looks.

Take a step closer.

Can you understand my twisted mind?

Can you find the real me?

I hide so quickly.

Adreanna, age 18

From: My Voice, My Life, My Future

You will be able to:

- ✓ Explain how flexibility in caregiving and adoptive parenting contributes to respecting differences
- ✓ Identify ways a family can help a child feel welcomed and respected for who they are
- ✓ Identify ways a child who looks like the caregiver or adoptive family can still be different from that caregiver or family
- ✓ Explain how a foster and adoptive caregiver or adoptive parent can help prepare their community for a new child

Rules of the Road

3

MINUTES

RULES

1. Are any of the rules you listed different from the ones in the home you grew up in?
2. What rules do you flex to make guests feel welcomed?

“Help a Child
Discover His Own Self-Identity”

Dauntae

Culture

- Values
- Beliefs
- Attitudes
- Traditions

Other Group Memberships

- Race
- Ethnicity
- Sexual Orientation
- Socio-Economic
- Other Groups

Individual

- Circumstances
- Experiences
- Traits

Rita's Interview

"Assumptions"

From: Ortega, R. M. & Coulborn-Faller, K. (November 2011) Webinar: Cultural Humility and Management in Child Welfare. National Child Welfare Workforce Institute.

Collective Membership

Preparing Your Home

A red square with a black border containing the number 2 in a stylized black font with a white outline.

Help your child to feel safe

“All children in care need nurturing homes that provide them with a safe place to process their feelings of grief and loss, freedom to express who they are, and structure to support them in becoming responsible, healthy adults.”

Entry Way

Space of first impressions

Take time to allow trust to build

Agree on names

Affirm child's primary family relationships

Don't show status differentiation

Make room in your home

Family Room

How to relate to each other and the outside world

Embrace values

Set expectations

Create an environment that values and reflects diversity

Establish “together time”

Decide on non-negotiable rules

Kitchen & Dining Room

Expectations
and practices around

Dietary preferences, needs, and restrictions

Eating schedule

Table rituals

Table manners

Expectations

Eating between meals

Bedroom

Expectations
and rules around sleeping behaviors and appropriate use of the bedroom space

Sleeping arrangements

Acceptable bed attire

Lights on/lights off/night lights

Bedtime schedules

Bedtime rituals

Visitors or overnight guests

Orderliness

Bedroom décor

Non-negotiables

Bathroom

Issues around hygiene, privacy, and personal presentation

Hygiene

Privacy and modesty

Habits around cleaning up after oneself

Hair

Clothing

Other self-expression parameters

community

Be an advocate for your child

Help child maintain positive sense of self

Pay attention to prejudice and discrimination

Don't hesitate to talk about racial issues

Rita's Interview

"Community"

From: Ortega, R. M. & Coulborn-Faller, K. (November 2011) Webinar: Cultural Humility and Management in Child Welfare. National Child Welfare Workforce Institute.

Schools

School is the place where children will spend most of their time (aside from home)

School can be a challenge

Some schools will be challenged by the diversity of children

Religious Institutions

Importance of practicing religious beliefs

Do not coerce children into any form of religion other than their own

Discuss willingness to be flexible to different religious practices

Community and Social Groups

Prepare people in your life for the changes in your family system

Advocate for a child of a minority status

Prepare for potential negative reactions

Transfer of

LEARNING

LEARNING

Based on today's session, what next steps will you take to prepare your home to provide a safe and nurturing environment that welcomes all children no matter what diversity they bring with them?

“Your Job Is Important”

Dauntae

1

I can show respect for differences between the child and my family by being flexible with family rules.

2

I can help a foster child feel welcomed and respected for who she/he is by taking time to build a relationship before enforcing all rules.

3

All children, even those who may look like me, can be different based on race, gender, ethnicity, group affiliation, and socio-economic status.

Thank you!

OCWTP
FOSTER CARE, KINSHIP CARE, AND
ADOPTION PRESERVICE TRAINING